The Detwiler name has been an honored one down through the years.
May the future generations keep it that way.

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor, rather than silver and gold.
Proverbs, 22-1.

YOUR NAME IS PRICELESS

You got it from your father,
'Twas the best he had to give.
And right gladly he bestowed it —
It is yours the while you live.

You may lose the watch he gave you,
And another you may claim,
But remember when you're tempted
To be careful of his name.

It was fair the day you got it,
And a worthy name to wear,
When he took it from his father
There was no dishonor there.

Through the years he proudly bore it,
To his father he was true,
And the name was clean and spotless
When he passed it on to you.

It is yours to wear forever,
Yours to wear while you live.
Yours, perhaps, some distant morning
To another boy to give.

And you'll smile, as did your father,
Smile above that baby there,
If a good and clean name
You are giving him to wear.

From my scrap book.

Foreword

The purpose of this volume is to provide a comprehensive and accurate record of the genealogical and historical information of the people of the State of Virginia. It is a work of great importance and interest to all who are concerned with the history and genealogy of the Commonwealth. The material is arranged in a systematic and alphabetical order, and is intended to be a permanent and reliable source of information for all who are interested in the history and genealogy of the State.

The following is a list of the names of the people of the State of Virginia, arranged in alphabetical order.

The following is a list of the names of the people of the State of Virginia, arranged in alphabetical order.

“Our design in printing these genealogies is to gratify a natural desire, which most persons feel, to know something of their forefathers, It is more creditable to transmit an honorable name to ones children than it is to derive it from one’s ancestors, and to be descended from good and true men than from a long line of unworthy forefathers, even though it be a line of kings and queens. One end of history is to reproduce the past for the gratification and instruction of the present, and it is surely (at least) an innocent curiosity to look back at those who in the past century cleared the land which we now till, and who laid the foundation of the institutions under which we live.”

Foreword

This book is a history and record of the Dettwiler family of Bachthalen, Langenbruck, Switzerland, from 1556 to 1958, a period of over 400 years, of fourteen generations. The first eight generations are followed through one son in each generation to Heinrich IV. A complete record of his four sons of the ninth generation, John, Jacob, Emanuel and Benjamin, who came to America in the 1860's and a partial record of his other children. Also in the back of the book is a partial record of Heinrich IV's father, Hans Jacob's family and Hans Jacob's brother Heinrich II family.

From the tenth generation on each generation is designated by indentation.

As: Oldest child and entire family -----11th generation.
 Children -----12th generation.
 Grandchildren -----13th generation.
 Great Grandchildren -----14th generation.
2nd Child and entire family
3rd child and so on.

My interest in the Dettwiler family history began when I married Henry Allen Dettwiler and moved to the homestead of his grandfather, John Dettwiler. I began a record of the grandparents, brothers and sisters and their families, adding aunts, uncles, and cousins so my children would know their many relatives. About the time I completed over 300 direct descendants of Grandfather John Dettwiler, we heard from cousins in Wisconsin and through them of relatives in Switzerland. So have spent the last two years gaining history and records I hope will be of interest. Source of information has been from old letters, county records, obituaries, information from families, and history and records from Hans Dettwiler.

I wish to thank everyone who helped in any way to make this record possible and especially Hans Dettwiler, who sent the history and record from Switzerland. I hope each one will enjoy this book as much as I have enjoyed working with it. It has been a very pleasant and interesting hobby.

This being my first experience with anything of this kind I realize there may be errors and misinterpretation in translating. But it has been done to the best of my knowledge and ability. I have not wished to give one any more importance than another, but have added information of the families who lived on the home place in Switzerland and John's homestead in Kansas, which I believed to be of interest to all.

Coat of Arms

The custom of using a Coat of Arms may be traced to very early times, as the standard of The Twelve Tribes of Israel, of the Egyptians and the Roman Eagles. From these times grew the custom of clans and families distinguishing themselves from others by signs and emblems. After a while it was considered a right of all noblemen to use a Coat of Arms. No two families were allowed to use the same. A Coat of Arms is composed of a shield or escutcheon on which the charges or emblems are depicted. Often the charges have some relation to the names or residence of the user.

In 1956 John Detwiler's great grand-daughter, Mickey Dillon visited her great-great-grandfather's home at Bachthalen, near Langenbruck, Switzerland, where John was born. Hans Dettwiler, present owner is a grandson of John's brother, Martin.

Hans sent this "Coat of Arms" back with Mickey. Hans informs me there are no records when or how it was obtained, but it has been in the family a very long time.

THE COLORS: Black eagle on yellow background indicated the vicinity of Zofingen was formerly under Austrian rule. Yellow indicates fortitude. Red bars indicate manhood, charity. Blue bars indicate justice.

THE CREST: An ornament which surmounts the helmet. Only those families which were of tournament rank were entitled to a crest.

THE SHIELD: Is of first and greatest importance.

SWISS HISTORY

In 1911 Emil Seiler-Laroche of Basel, Grandson of Marie Dettwiler, daughter of Heinrich Dettwiler II and Verena Jenny, started a search for Dettwiler family history. He found out the family Dattwill came from Baden of Targan. Dattwill today is a village. In 1200 it was only a farm. They called it Detwyler Farm giving it their family name. The first record of the name was on a deed on June 2, 1364. The oldest record of the name, Dettwiler is also on a deed.

A deed shows that Vely Von Tattwil sold land on October 25, 1437. Also records on May 23, 1450 is the name, Welti Thatweiler from Schaftland. After 1500 the name Dettwiler is found in the church register of Zotingen and also in county Stengelbach, Fleckenhauser, Rothrist and Saget. The name is spelled many different ways. Tachwyler, Thedwiler, Dattwyler, Thatwiler, Dattwiler, Dettwiler. The records are not complete because the town of Zotingen was burned twice because of a contagious disease. First in 1596 and again in 1628 so all records were destroyed.

The records show that the first Dettwiler, who came to Langenbruck came from Weiler Saget by Rothist. In 1600 several families of Dettwilers lived there.

In the marriage record of Lagenbruck is Anna Dettwiler, married 1572 to Hans Jenny from Wald. Jacob Dettwiler, thought to be a brother of Anna, came to Langenbruck in 1582. Later Jerg-George Dettwiler, thought to be another brother came and records show he bought a place in Durenburg in 1600 for 3,600 Gulden. He was born in 1565 and is the first Dettwiler on record of the family in Langenbruck.

In Langenbruck and surrounding country and other parts of Switzerland there are many Dettwiler families. Also many went to Germany and America. The Langenbruck families, the German families both spell the name, Dettwiler. Americans spell it Dettwiler and Detwiler.

The records I have sent were obtained from Emil Seiler, Emil Seiler-Laroche record 1911, Dr. Henry Dettwiler in Easton, Penn. was from H. Fichter, 1933, family books from Langenbruck 1750-1957 and information from family.

There is no proof when the farm Bachthalen began. Only while remodeling in 1935 we found the date 1556 on a cellar window. But we think the house and farm are much older, because the name Bachthalen, is found in records in 1423. There are records of the owners of Bachthalen, from 1559 until this date. There is also proof that the farm in the 400 years has always been the same size. Forest, crop land and grass land totaling 120 acres. There has been changes made in the buildings. There has been remodeling and building larger for the needs of the day. The oldest part of the house, living room and kitchen, are still like it was 400 years ago. Owners have always had milk cows and made cheese. Milk production is still our first business, but we also sell young registered stock. In 1824 Henrich Dettwiler IV married Barbara Hagler and leased Bachthalen. He owned a home in Langenbruck and was a stock dealer. Barbara Hagler died and left him with three small children. He married Anna Marie Jenny and in 1848 became owner of Bachthalen. Appraised value 35,500 franks.

In 1863 Henrich's son Martin, bought Bachthalen for 51,000 franks. In 1905 Adolph, son of Martin bought the farm for 97,585 franks. Electricity was put in in 1914. Steam heat in 1935. In 1939 Adolph sold the farm to his sons, Hans and Adolph Dettwiler for 150,000 franks. In 1942-1946 six silos were built. In 1949 both houses were remodeled. 1957 value of Bachthalen is 230,930 franks.

June 23, 1957, Hans Dettwiler, Bachthalen.

AMERICAN HISTORY

Heinrich Dettwiler IV's children were all born at the family home of Bachthalen, Langenbruck, Canton Basel in the Republic of Switzerland. Four of his sons came to America.

On April 23, 1853, Johannes sailed from La Harve, France, on the sailboat, Liberty, for America. On the boat Johannes met the Stickley family from Basel, Switzerland, and became interested in their daughter, Mary Katharina. After 33 days at sea they landed in New York on May 30, 1853. Johannes had intended going to Ohio where his cousin lived, but went with the Stickley family to Wellsboro, Tioga, Penn. Johannes signed his name John Detwiler on his first letter home so from now on I will call him John. The following spring on April 14, 1854, John and Mary Katharina were married. Six children were born to them while they lived in Penn. In 1865 the family moved to Monroe, Green County, Wisconsin, where they farmed for seven years. Three more children were born in Wisconsin. John and Mary were anxious to secure a home of their own and believing a homestead in Kansas gave promise of being the best place to accomplish this they prepared to go to Kansas. All their belongings were loaded on two covered wagons and John and Mary and their nine children bid goodbye to John's two brothers, Jacob and Emanuel, and their families, their friends and started for the west.

In the fall of 1871 they arrived in Glenwood, Iowa, without means to proceed farther, but by push and energy he succeeded in finding work through the winter and saved enough to enable them to continue on their journey to Kansas. They arrived in Smith County, Kansas, in 1872 and homesteaded in Valley township, northwest of Cedar. They built a dugout on the banks of East Cedar Creek. In this humble abode their last child was born. Here they went to work in earnest to improve their home and all through the hardships incident to pioneer life they never complained.

In 1874 their peaceful happy family was made sad by the death of a beloved daughter, Dora, age 8 years. The next year a greater loss came to the family with the death of Mary. With the loss of his beloved wife and partner of his joys and sorrows, the one who cheered and encouraged him to battle with the obstacles of life, John's life was indeed hard to bear. He was both father and mother to the motherless children, helped nobly by the eldest daughter, the family became a credit to the community.

John was a good farmer, hauling his grain to Red Cloud, Nebraska, and Ellis, Kansas, to market and to get it ground for family use and also get supplies. He succeeded financially and was respected by all who knew him, both for his amiable disposition and honesty of purpose. He was a good neighbor and always ready to lend a helping hand to the needy. John passed away at his home on November 20, 1888, and funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. P. Newell. The funeral was the largest seen for years. Everyone was anxious to show their respect for the deceased and his family.

John's son, Henry R. Detwiler bought the homestead from heirs in 1892. In 1907 Henry remodeled and enlarged the house. Henry R. and wife, Luella Ann lived on the homestead twenty-eight years and raised a family of eight children, who have contributed the largest branch to the family tree. Henry was a successful farmer and cattle feeder. In 1920 Henry retired and sold the homestead to his son Henry Allen, who was born here. Henry Allen and wife, Hilma, have lived on the homestead thirty-eight years, raising a family of six children. In 1945 when their two sons, Dick and Dale, returned from service in World War II, they formed a farming partnership with their father, Henry Allen, under the name Detwiler Bros. The entire farm has been terraced and is farmed on the contour. In 1947 they received the first Kansas Bankers Award given in Smith County for Soil Conservation which reads as follows: "This Certifies that Allen Detwiler is fulfilling a responsibility to mankind by proper land use and establishment of necessary conservation practices to prevent erosion and maintain the fertility and productivity of the land. Altho future generations may not speak your name, your deeds will be reflected in a greater and better agriculture. It is in recognition of an important task cheerfully undertaken and well done that you and your family are awarded this Testimonial of Honor." In 1953-1954 they received a Goodyear Award for outstanding accomplishments in Soil Conservation. A windbreak has been established around the farmstead. An additional 400 acres has been added to the farm. A Grade A dairy has been established with a herd of 40 cows.

Jacob came to America in 1865 and settled in Monroe, Wisconsin, where he operated a furniture store for a while. Later he purchased land and became a farmer. He married Christianna Schafer. Four children were born to them. His daughter, Sophia Kubly, and her daughter, Helen Frits, made a trip to Switzerland in 1953 and visited Bachthalen and relatives there.

Martin bought Bachthalen in 1863 and spent his entire life there.

Emanuel came to America in 1864. He worked one year in a lumber camp in Ohio, then returned to Switzerland on a visit. When he came back to America he settled in Green County, Wisconsin, where he worked as a hired man on farms. In 1869 he was able to buy a farm north of Monroe, Wisconsin. He married Rosine Marty and they lived on the farm until 1900, when they moved to the city of Monroe. Emanuel and his wife made a visit to Bachthalen in 1890. In 1901 Emanuel and his daughter, Ida, made the trip to the family home at Bachthalen. Emanuel made one visit to Kansas to visit his brother, John and family. Emanuel's son, John and wife, Barbara, also visited their cousins in Kansas. Emanuel corresponded with his nephew, John H. Detwiler, Smith Center, Kansas, for many years, but after they both passed away all contact with the Kansas relatives ceased until 1955 when quite by accident contact was made with Emanuel's son Fred Dettwiler. In 1956 Emanuel's two sons, Fred and Arnold Dettwiler, and Fred's son, Henry visited the Henry Allen Detwiler's and other cousins in Kansas. The boys in Wisconsin have always spelled their name Dettwiler.

Benjamin Detwiler was born in Bachthalen, Langenbruck, Canton Basel in the republic of Switzerland, where he grew to manhood and learned the joiners trade and served his apprenticeship under his brother Jacob, and continued with him. In 1870 he immigrated to America and homesteaded in Smith County, Kansas, near his brother, John in 1882. He built a small house as he never married and lived by himself, until his death in 1889. He was buried in the Cedar cemetery by his brother, John and wife.

1. The first step in the process of the development of a new product is the identification of a need or a problem.

2. The second step is the selection of a team to develop the product. This team should be composed of individuals who are knowledgeable in the relevant fields and who are capable of working together effectively.

3. The third step is the formulation of a plan for the development of the product. This plan should include a clear statement of the objectives of the project, a description of the tasks to be performed, and a schedule for the completion of the project.

4. The fourth step is the execution of the plan. This involves the assignment of tasks to team members, the monitoring of progress, and the adjustment of the plan as needed.

5. The fifth step is the evaluation of the product. This involves the comparison of the product to the objectives of the project and the determination of whether the product meets the requirements of the market.

Letter written by John Detwiler to his parents in Switzerland describing his trip to America.

Wellsboro, Penn.
July 10, 1853.

Dear Unforgettable Parents, Grandparents, Sisters, and Brothers:

With joyful and happy heart I take my pen to describe to you, the trip from Europe to America. I wrote to you that I would depart April 23, but it was not so, because the ship I was to leave on was already occupied with too many passengers, so I had to wait until the 27th. I was in Le Harve 10 days.

I sailed on a beautiful ship, a regular 3-masted ship by the name of "Liberty". There was only one second deck with the cellar. It is better when not too many people are on it. The ships crew was composed of 14 sailors, 2 helmsmen, the captain and 309 passengers. We had no animals on the boat except chickens. Everything went smooth until the 4th day when we had a storm, but no accident occurred. We had no resting place. There were many who had to sit up the whole trip. On the 22nd day we had a very good wind and there was much rejoicing when we saw a boat off in the distance and thought it would take us off, but it steamed away in a different course. Our ship sailed good. At noon on May 30, we landed in the beautiful town of New York. Two on our ship died. One boy from Alsace, who was sick three days, age 22 years, and one child 1 year old. I for my part felt well, thank God.

There were many who came to the ship, who wanted to take us to this or that hotel. One was named Steirburg Baum. Among these were many of my countrymen. One of my friends was Engelwicht's son Mehlen in Basel. All of us Swiss went to the Schweizer House, where we stayed only one day and one night because we had to pay so dearly for everything. It cost a person 6 shillings or according to Swiss money, 4 francs. I moved from there to Corning where it cost only $4.00 a person. It cost $1.50 overcharge for 100 pounds, 50 pounds were free. Our trunks were brought from the ship by a teamster, who was employed at our house, but we had to pay for it, 2 shillings per person. The trunks were placed in the cellar.

When we took it out again we had to pay 6 shillings. The trunks were loaded on the steamship and brought to the railroad. I met Jakob Durst with another person from the town of Baseland. We had company on the whole trip. Our trunks were discharged. In the morning we had to board another railroad. There nobody talked German. We asked for a German host. We were sent to someone who had no beds for us and nothing to eat or drink for us. We had no choice. We passed the night on chairs and benches. In the morning we had breakfast at a cost of 41 shillings for six persons. Then we went to Wellsboro, Tioga Co., Penn. by teamster and that cost us $4.00 again. Most of us had relatives here. Four days after arrival we were boarding with a Swiss farmer. He had about 300 acres of land, 12 cows, 2 oxen, stock cattle, 36 cattle in all, 14 horses, 20 hogs, sheep, and fowl of all sorts. Here we had work enough. Wages were $10.00 a month and the food was very good. One worker was German, but he did not board with us. I was always well and healthy, thank God. I mailed a letter from Vreichle, but I have not received an answer yet. If I understood the language a little better, I could have got more wages. I may start something on my own, but land is rather dear here and I do not like the neighborhood too much. Otherwise the area is healthy. It is hilly. The little town and neighborhood I could compare to Langenbruck. They have 3 churches and one schoolhouse here. There are also 4 hotels, but drinks they do not have here because they are forbidden. That we are not used to so get bored. In this letter I tell you the truth. I say, whoever intends to make this trip, I will not talk him out of it. Nobody will regret it. Here, America is a country where you can make a good living. I daresay law and order is also as good as in Europe or maybe much better. The land here can be had at different prices. There is land here where an acre costs $200 to $300, but that is land where there is building lots. There was a man here who had one acre of land and asked $1000 for it. An acre here is 100 ft. larger than Jucharten. There was an estate here for sale of 50 acres, everything already cultivated with house and barn for $800. If this neighborhood would be to my liking, I would have bought it. There is land here with much forest for sale at $3.00 an acre. Here they make dry feed and grass stays green until the middle of hay month, June. Cattle here is as dear as elsewhere or back home. For instance, a good horse cost $80 to $100, cows cost $25 to $30.

If I do not like it here I can find another place. One can earn wages here immediately so that one can travel. In five weeks I have gained back my traveling money. Whoever feels like it should come here. There is place enough here for everyone. Of course, the far distance holds many a man back. But for single people, it is only a step. For a married man with children it is harder. But there were many children on our ship, very little ones and some older. The child from 3 to 4 years old was spared the seasickness. These were always healthy. I warn everybody who wants to make this trip not to make bundles of extra clothes to take with him. Only so much as he can take on the boat and can carry away when he debarks. It is better to take food from home for provisions because every passenger has 200 pounds free. But only take as much food as he will need on the ship. Summer clothes are not more expensive than back home. Woolen clothes are more expensive.

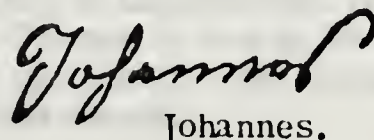

Craftsmen make good wages. A good cabinet maker earns $26.00 a month of which he must pay $8.00 for board. They chop lumber 3 foot from the ground and then burn it. They sow wheat, then harrow it. Otherwise the land is worked like back home. Here they have very fast crops, wheat, rye, barley, oats, buckwheat and corn. This land is so good and grows so well that even when it is planted in July, the crop will be ripe. Potatoes grow very good too.

I will now close my letter with many thousand greetings to you.

Address me as follows: John Detwiler
c/o Mr. Fellows
Wellsboro, Tioga Co. Penn.
North America.

If I ever come again, I will explain much more about this country. And if somebody would make this trip I would come with him again. We were 33 days at sea. Many ships have arrived from Bremen and from Liverpool. Some of them were 40 to 45 days on the sea. One arrived that had been at sea 100 days. I wish this letter will reach you all in good health as it has left me. Now farewell, dear parents, until we meet again.

Your truthful son,

Johannes.

Write to this address, because I do not know if I will remain here or not.

Letter written by Heinrich Dettwiler IV to his son John and family in Pennsylvania, seven years after John came to America. Louise was the new baby.

Langenbruck, Switzerland
August 31, 1860.

Dear Son and daughter-in-law:

For a long time it has been our ardent wish to receive news of you again, and finally this wish was realized, as we received from Riehen a letter from you from America which we read joyously, noting that you, thank God were all sound and well and that a member had been added to your family.

Further, we have noted that farming in America does not please you and that you have not yet decided to buy a farm, or that you might yet do so. At all events the latter would be a difficult task for you with such a family, especially in a foreign land out of reach of friends and relations, therefore we believe it would be best for you to return to your fatherland where a competence is still to be found, and it would make us all very happy to have you again in the family circle.

There have been many changes here with us since you left us. Your brother, Martin, married Elizabeth Probst of Reigoldswil. They were married about a year and a half ago. Last winter they were blessed by the arrival of a baby boy. He is now six months old.

He now has half the Bach Valley as a feod (under long-time lease).

Benjamin has learned the joiner's trade, and by the end of July, the two year apprenticeship terminates; but he will remain with his brother Jacob.

Anna has been a waitress a year and a half in Bad Bubendorf but she will quit in September. She is engaged to Emanuel Dettwiler, my nephew.

Our household is much reduced; it consists of only four persons: your brother Emanuel and your younger sister Eliza are still with us, and thank God we are all sound and well.

It is now going well with your brother Heinrich in Durrenberg. For a long time he has lost no more cattle. He has now five children, two boys and three girls, all well. Since spring the eldest has been attending the school in Langenbruck.

We have had several successive profitable years and this year looks rosy. There has been lots of hay and there will be much again if it can be dried but we have had a lot of rainy weather, which means late harvest, but up to now the fruits are very pretty. There is an abundance of all kinds. Here cattle have a very high price. For common cows 300 to 500 franks are paid. In many communities in Switzerland cheese plants are being built. Also in Langenbruck one is established. We are delivering milk there this summer. Cheese is worth 50 to 70 franks per hundred weight; butter 80 centimes to 1 frank per pound; corn brings 12 to 14 franks per sack; potatoes bring 8 to 10 franks per 200 pounds.

In Basel many changes have taken place since you left. Your cousin Martin now lives near Spahlen Gate. He has three daughters. They acquired the little Louisa about 1 1/2 years ago. In contrast the second older daughter is critically sick. Her recovery is hardly expected. Her affliction is tuberculosis. At Cousin John's all are sound and well. The elder son Jean is a master harness-maker; his brother Jacob has learned the baker's trade and is now abroad. The youngest, Rudolph, is a railroad employee. Now the railroad runs clear through Switzerland.

The railroad station near Basel is at Apehlenthor, and the Baden station is before Riehenthor. Your former teacher, Withstich, will leave St. Jacob the coming spring. He should pay rent (or interest) but he has served notice and bought the Hohenreihe Estate. A Baptist is coming to St. Jacob in his place. Your last master (teacher) Durst, of Spahlenthor has married a young woman from Letten. His lady Hofer died. Durst really inherited her estate.

With reference to the war situation in Switzerland all is quiet. There is no further danger. The Swiss can again live in peace. Last year your brothers, Martin and Emanuel, were in an encampment in Arbert in Canton Bern. This year in September the other two, Jacob and Benjamin, will have to be in an encampment in Brugg, in Arau. There will be an army of about 8 to 10 thousand men. In the southern part of Italy there is still war. The Brave General Garibaldi with his volunteers will overthrow the tyrannical King of Napels, and by war establish a free and united Italy. And all signs indicate he will succeed.

I do not know anything more that is new to write, and close with the hope of seeing you again, with many thousand hearty greetings from all, the parents, brothers and sisters and relations.

Your Father,

Heinrich Dettwiler
in the Bachthalen.

A HISTORICAL FACT: General Garibaldi came to the United States in exile. His burning desire was to "quietly and humbly become a citizen of this great Republic of Freeman."

While here, Garibaldi lived in Rosebank, Staten Island. He earned his livelihood as a candlemaker, but his peaceful life was short lived. He soon embarked for Italy and played a leading role in the Revolution, when he was successful in uniting Italy into a single nation in 1870. (as grandfather predicted).

The bold Garibaldi never became an American citizen, but Americans have not forgotten this visitor. The house on Staten Island in which he lived is now a museum. The Garibaldi monument in New York City's Greenwich Village gives continuing evidence of our respect for this champion of freedom.

(Letter written to Hilma Detwiler by Hans Detwiler)

Langenbruck, Switzerland
June 3, 1956.

Dear Relations:

You cannot know how happy we were to receive your letter of March 23, 1956. We had not heard from the family of your grandfather for many years. I am willing to write you the information. I very deeply hope to hear from you often. I am sorry to let you wait so long. The pictures show the place where we live. We have lots of work this spring as we do not have enough people to help. Excuse me for writing this in German. I have never had a chance to learn English. I can only understand a little English, but I can read your letter very well.

We haven't heard much from the relatives in America and the least from John's family. Emanuel made three trips to visit us. He made the last trip in 1901. Jacob's daughter Sophia visited us in 1953.

I am a grandson of Martin Dettwiler. I live at Bachthalen, the home place of great grandfather Heinrich Dettwiler. I have two brothers; Martin went to Canada in 1938, Adolph lives with me and is not married. My wife does her housework and runs the guest house. We have three children. Rolf graduated from grade school and works on the place. Migger still has one year of school. Maria is nine years old.

Bachthalen is a nice place, pasture and fields and timber. It all measures 125 acres. Because we only have a little flat ground, we only plant for our own use. We plant wheat, rye, oats and potatoes. Our main living comes from our dairy. We have 45 cows. We milk 16 to 18. We sell milk twice a day. It goes to Basel 36 miles away. Each year we sell ten head of registered heifers. For the field work we have two horses and have had a Willys jeep for several years.

It is very hard to hire people to help on the farm as the factories pay more. My brother, my son and an old man help me.

A couple of days ago we started to put up hay. That is the most work for us. The winters are long and we feed hay six and a half months of the year.

Next winter when I have more time I'll send you the record of the whole family.

We and our family send best wishes from my wife, my children, and I, brother Adolph and Aunt Elise.

Your Cousin,

Hans Dettwiler.

Hans Dettwiler.

Let A be a function of x and y which is continuous in the domain D and has a continuous partial derivative A_x in D . Then the function $F(x, y)$ defined by the equation is a function of x and y which is continuous in the domain D and has a continuous partial derivative $F_x = A$ in D . The function $F(x, y)$ is called the potential function of A .

$$F(x, y) = \int_{x_0}^x A(t, y) dt + \int_{y_0}^y A(x, t) dt$$

1937

The function $F(x, y)$ is called the potential function of A because it satisfies the equation

$$\frac{\partial F}{\partial x} = A(x, y)$$ in the domain D . The function $F(x, y)$ is called the potential function of A because it satisfies the equation
